

Voluntary sponsoring of our research group „gynecological endocrinology“ is gratefully requested and always greatly welcome. All financial support will be used for our research activities. All donations will be employed for financing either the salaries of PhD students or for supplementing equipment in our research laboratory. If you wish to support one of our particular projects selectively, you are invited to do so and to mention this on the money transfer sheet. By adding your name and address, you will receive from us a written acknowledgement documenting your supportive grant.
